Is Getting Definite Action on Harbor Lines Resolutions

JORUM OF FIRST BRANCH

TUS QUANTITY WHEN THE ESTION LOOKED FAIR FOR PETTLEMENT AT LAST RIGHT'S MENTING OF COUNCIL ANOTH-MEETING CALLED FOR THIS ENING-ANNUAL REPORT OF HE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION ND APPEALS - OTHER BUSI-

She harbor lines resolutions caused a ockade in council last night, owing to action, or rather inaction of the irst branch, and as a consequence en-ergetic advocates of the resolutions have called a special meeting of council for this evening, when it is thought they will be adopted on a majority vote the first branch, the second having adspied the resolutions unanimously about two weeks ago.

Council adjourned last night in a lit-Of exhibition of friction between the two branches, the second being "kindo! riled" at its neighbor failing to keep a quorum, thereby preventing the trans-action of some unfinished business on Clerk Watkins' desk. Aside from the undercurrent of interest in the harbor lines resolutions, there was nothing to wary interest. Considerable routine business was transacted, among it being the report of the committee on equalization and appeals.

Both branches secured quorums at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 10:10 o'clock. Had there been no hitches it is likely all the business "before the house" would have been transacted within that time.

HARBOR LINES CONTROVERSY. The resolutions protesting against the grant of the Pennsylvania Railthe grant of the Pennsylvanis Railway's petition anent filling in the river us ir its present freight depot, were a rably considered at council's last meeting, in the second branch, and their fate in the first branch was a matter of confecture. The fun started last night in the second, on Mr. Fair's resolution, with in effect, deterred further acast for two weeks, owing to the absence from the city of Mr. W. P. Hubbyrd, attorney of the Wheeling, Pittsbargh & Kentucke Railway Company, who wished to be heard.

The Fair resolution carried in the second branch, Mr. Chew's amendment adding to Mr. Hubbard's name, or anybedy else heard," being defeated. The first meh concurred in the resolution.

Later, Mr. Kindelberger, of the sec-ond claimed that some of the members supported the Fair resolution through a miritake, supposing it was the special committee's report, and he succeeded in getting the second brunch to vote to resonsider its former action on Mr. Fair's resolution.

reconsider its former action on Mr. Fair's resolution.

The first branch voted to non-concur in the Kindelberger motion. Them matters hung fire awalle, and other budners was taken up. In the meantime, the second branch adopted a resolution introduced by Mr. Ahl, which instructed City Engineer White to notify the government board of angineers of council's position regarding the Pan Handle's position forced a remountion, inadvecting the city engineer & stake out the harbor lines between Thirty-eighth and Thirty-inth streets, and the ground between the "Pewiky" depot and the givernment harbor lines. This was adopted by both branches.

sign Thirty-inint streets, and the ground between the "Pewigy" depot and the sweetment harbor lines. This was adopted by both branches.

Shortly afterward Captain. Davison tried to set the first branch & weconsider its action in defeating the Kindelberger motion. The Eighth ward member said he had since found out that further delay was injurious, and he desired action right there on the resolutions.

Mr. Ebeling argued against trying to "push the resolutions through," and he was airoid "there was something back of all this energy."

Captain Davison called on Engineer White, who took the floor prepared to reply to intimations of Mr. Ebeling, but Mr. Hazlett called Mayor Butts' attention to the fact that the first branch was short one member of a quorum. True enough, there were but eight members there, as follows: Messrs. Baird, Bochman. Davison, Ebeling, Haller, Hazlett, Schmidt and Stroebel.

Same time previous the major had excised Messrs. Horkheimer, Zwicker and Williams. Mr. List was the last to leave and spolled a quorum.

Without a quorum the first branch could do nothing, and Clerk O'Brien nothing and Clerk O'Brien nothing and clerk O'Brien nothing and clerk O'Brien soulded the second. Mr. Kindelberger moved to adjourn until this evening. His motion, amended by Mr. Ah' that the ordinance fining the members who failed to appear, be enforced, was

His motion, amended by Mr. Ahl that the ordinance fining the members who failed to appear, be enforced, was adopted with the motion.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS. The petition of John Robrecht for a icense, went back to the committee on nicense, went back to the committee on petitions and remonstrances, with an amendment by Mr. Chew that license be granted. As Henry Robrecht has license for same place desired, St. Charles Hotel, City Solicitor Nesbitt stated that, in case John Robrecht's petition was granted, Henry could get back a rebate.

Captain Otto's resolution fining owners of horses for tieing their animals to shade trees on the streets, was referred to the committee on ordinances.

Council adopted the recommendation of the fire committee to purchase fire alarm boxes, purchase not to exceed $500. An extra engineer was appointed while the regular engineers take vacations. Joseph Whissen's appointment at the Atlantic was made permanent.

An ordinance had been speepared which gave Wheeling retail druggists powers of retailing spirituous ilquors, but as there were no printed copies of the ordinance as sipulated by council, Mr. Weisgerber objected, and the city clerk was instructed to notify the druggists provide printed copies.

BOXING.

The men behind John Sullivan, who was to have met Oscar Gardner, before a Brooklyn club last night, weakened a few days ago, consequently the match was declared off. Oscar has been unfortunate in trying to get on matches in the east.

Oscar Gardner, Jack Arthurs, and probably one or more attendants, leave to-day for Toledo, where Oscar will train for his contest with Danny Mc-Mahon, August 17. Since the Wheeling & Lake Erie has agreed to give a $5 rate for the fight, the party of fifteen local sports will likely be formed to see the battle.

BOWLING.

This evening, on the Mozart Park aland the ten-pin enthusiasts of the town and the telephin chatches to the town are intensely interested in the result. No doubt a large crowd will witness the contest. Stevenson, at scratch, with probably win, unless some "short-end" bowler rolls unexpectedly strong.

Last night in the Motart tournament, North End won two out of three from Old Cronics, and the Korn Kobe captur-ed three straight from Puritans, rolling three nice games, 975, 901 and 874.
